MUST HAVE PURE ATHLETICS,

FULL REPORT OF THE MEETING OF SCHOOL AND COLLEGE MEN

Determined to Eliminate Professionalism—Recommendations Made to a Later Meeting.

In the Telegram of Saturday was printed a list of the representatives of the schools and colleges of the state interested in the movement to eliminate the odium of professionalism in the athletics of our educational institutions who met in the McAdoo House in this city that afternoon The number of the schools and colleges represented and the men sent to represent them show there is more behind the movement than the mere making of a show. Several months ago the Telegram had an editorial of some length on the subject, having noticed a plea for purer athletics in one of our school magazines. So far as the writer is aware this was the only paper outside of a few school papers to notice the matter at any length. The same writer had the privilege of attending the meeting Saturday afternoon and takes pleasure in presenting the following report of the meeting:

President Winston, of the A. and M. College, was chosen chairman, and Prof. J. M. Oldham, of Horner's School, secretary. Dr. Winston outlined the purpose of the meeting, and noted the evils sought to be corrected.

Dr. Chas. Baskerville read and explained the rules adopted over two years ago by the University, governing athletic contests, showing that their rules, as they are enforced, practically cover the ground. The idea is to confine college athletics strictly to the bonafide students of the college. He thought the institutions a little too suspicious of each other.

Prof. J. Allen Holt said he was glad to see so many present and believed that it meant something, and that the end sought would be obtained. He suggested that all men who play summer ball where money is taken in at the gate be eliminated. This means any one who plays away from home during vacation and receives compensation for the same.

Prof. Whitehouse, of Trinity College, thought the heads of the institutions should take the matter in hand. He strongly condemned the professional ball player on the college team and said he was demoralizing. The professional player is a loafer and will not work. He does not come to college to work. He should be made to take the regular college course and be required to stand his examinations. Prof. Whitehouse would not debar the "summer player" who was a regular attendant at school or college, and who wanted to play a little ball during vacation. He played because he loved it or because he was asked to play on some local team; was often a poor boy and was not able to go around and play, and sometimes got his expenses paid.

Prof. M. H. Holt said he wanted to strike right at the root of the evil. There are two things to choose between and that is to have professionalism or not to have it Taking in the man who plays summer ball is a step in the direction of the very thing we are trying to eliminate.

Dr. Sikes, of Wake Forest College, said that his college had, over two years ago, passed a resolution forbidding all intercollegiate games of either football or baseball. He said the standard had been placed too high. He did not believe that the college teams have time to play expert ball. In the zeal to win, expert players have been brought in and thus professionalism was introduced, corrupting college athletics. We must have pure athletics or none at all. The trustees of Wake Forest say stop. The students say go forward. Between the two stand the faculty who would like to see the matter adjusted right. Let us get rid of the suspicions that have been spoken of and let it be understood that when a young man puts on his baseball suit he takes his character along with him also.

Dr. Hobbs, of Guilford College, said he heartily agreed with Dr. Sikes that we must have pure athletics or none at all; and he believed he would go a step further and say that we must have athletics. We must eliminate all objectionable features and play ball for the fun of it—the sportsmanship. There must be co-operation to do this.

Prof. Oldham said he would like to save the "summer ball" player if possible; but we must have pure athletics, and if we can't have it without doing so, eliminate the summer player.

Prof. Durham, of Trinity, said it was the desire of the faculty and president of the institution he represented to have college sports and games placed entirely above suspicion. The taking of a young man into a college because he has the qualities to become an athlete should be prohibited. It is simply murderous. Let no man be admitted into college athletics who has not attained to certain degrees in literary pursuits.

Prof. Johnson, of Bingham School, at Mebane, said the schools ought to bear a similar relation to each other as the colleges.

Prof. Wilson, of Guilford College, said he thought teachers should stop playing on the teams with the boys. He has been doing so but didn't think he would keep it up.

Prof. Wright, of Oak Ridge, thought that each high school team should have at least one teacher on the team. It was different from the colleges.

Prof. Hodgin, of Guilford, wants the root of the evil struck at and killed.

Prof. Wright introduced the following resolution, which was carried:

That the action of today in no way interfere with the baseball and track teams of this spring as already arranged.

Dr. Sikes moved that the colleges and schools be invited to send representatives to a meeting in Durham on May 5th, for the purpose of forming a constitution and set of rules to govern athletic contests. Carried.

Prof. Durham moved that the Harvard definition of professional be recommended to the meeting in Durham, viz: No student shall be allowed to represent any institution in any public contest, either individually or as a member of any team, who, either before or since entering that institution, shall have engaged for money in any athletic competition, whether for a stake, or a money prize, or a share of the entrance fees or admission money; or who shall have taught or engaged in any athletic exercise or sport as a means of livelihood; or who shall, at any time, have received, for taking part in any athletic sport or contest, any pecuniary gain or emoluments whatever, direct or indirect, with the single exception that he may receive from the school organization or from a permanent amateur association of which he was a member, the amount by which the necessary expenses incurred by him in representing his organization in athletic contests exceeded his ordinary expenses. Carried.

Prof. Durham offered: Resolved that we recommend to the meeting at Durham that none but men who have shown by passing designated entrance requirements, and by satisfactory pursuit of his literary or scientific course that they are bona fide college students, be admitted to any contest. Carried.

Prof. Holt offered: That every contest where championship honors are involved the home team shall provide disinterested officials satisfactory to the competing teams. Carried.

Also that each institution shall certify through its authorities to its list of players; that no player, directly or indirectly, has received any remuneration or inducement to their knowledge, to become a registered student of said institution with a view to the athletic contests, provided that nothing in this shall prevent young men from accepting scholarships which would be given.

Prof. Durham offered that no man shall enter a contest who shall have entered the institution later than thirty days from the beginning of the academic year, or shall shall fail to give satisfactory evidence that he intends to remain a full academic year. Dr. Baskerville wished his vote registered against this suggestion.

Prof. Durham also recommended that proper precautions be taken to prevent special students from illegitimately entering contests.

Prof. Oldham: That we recommend that no undergraduate student going from one institution to another of the same class shall be allowed to enter contests until he has been in the institution one year.

Dr. Baskerville: That all non-degree conferring institutions be allowed to play any teacher or coach in their contests with degree conferring institutions, provided they are amateurs according to our definition; and that in their contests with non-degree conferring institutions no teacher or instructor shall be allowed to enter.

On motion of Prof. J. A. Holt a committee of three was appointed to put the resolutions in order. The committee is as follows: Dr. Baskerville, Prof. Durham and Prof. J. A. Holt.

Professor Wright moved that the sense of this meeting be to further pure athletics in the state.

On motion of Dr. Baskerville, a vote of thanks was extended Professor Holt for interest taken in this meeting.

After the meeting adjourned, several of those present expressed themselves as highly pleased with the enthusiasm manifested and the headway made. It is believed the movement thus started will end in great good to our educational institutions.

Cleveland to Support Bryan.

Richmond Times.

A dispatch from Washington to the Baltimore Sun represents that great interest is being manifested there in a report that Grover Cleveland is going very shortly, to announce that he will support Mr. Wm. J. Bryan for the presidency. The dispatch goes on to say that very many of the gold standard democrats are taking the position that, as the bill establishing the gold standard is now a law, silver is, in fact, eliminated as a political issue, and that there is, therefore, no longer any reason why the democrats who split off from the party in 1896 should longer remain separated from it.

SERVICES ENGAGING THE CHURCH GOING PEOPLE YESTERDAY.

Not a Complete Report of Sermons But Something About Them And The Music.

"What wilt thou have me to do?" was the text chosen by Rev. C. E. Hodgin at Westminster Presbyterian church at the morning service yesterday. His theme was "definite requests in prayer." If we do not receive blessings it is because we are not definite and heartily sincere in asking for them.

A congressional meeting was held and Messrs. E. J. Davis and S. H. Boyd were elected ruling elders; and W. S. Weatherspoon and Chalmer McLean were elected deacons. If they accept the offices tendered them they will be installed on next Sabbath.

At Centenary church pastor Wagg preached from the text: "For we walk by faith and not by sight" A few of the many excellent thoughts presented are: We cannot see the good things God has in store for us, but we believe they exist and by faith we press on toward them Any child, or any fool can walk by sight, but it requires manhood to walk by faith. Sight is grovelling; to walk by faith is ennobling. A copper cent held close to the eye will hide the grandest mountain. The dollar is hiding the best things of life from many men. You can't see electricity; but what does the man amount to who does not believe it exists. Sight is single. In seeing you depend on self—individual sight. Walking by faith means that you are not alone.

After the sermon a quartette: "Take Time to be Holy" was sung by J. M. Love, Joe Phillips, Miss Sallie Love and R. M. Phillips

St. Barnabas parish has secured the services of Miss Mabel Hill as organist. The beautiful and impressive ritual of the Episcopal church of which, as every one knows, music of a high order plays a very important part, gives this talented young musician fine scope for her well known taste and skill. Yesterday the services were especially devotional, the Lenten character of worship being in evidence, although Sunday is never regarded as a fast day, even during the penitential period.

In the morning the rector's text was taken from the gospel set apart for the day, "Jesus was casting out a devil, and it was dumb." He claimed that the Master was yet casting out devils from the church and from the world by his spirit, which accounted for the improved condition of the world. Mr. Jones said he knew it was not fashionable now to speak of the possession of devils, that Jesus only accommodated himself to the ignorance of those times in admitting demoniacal possession, but then or now, call it what you will, the fact has ever remained the same and there has always been a continuity of Christian faith that He did and does cast them out of man. Evil habits, long indulged in, grow and become second nature, the possessor's will for good becoming powerless, resulting in a monomaniac, lunatic, drunkard, thief, liar, etc., in proportion to one's yielding to these sins so often lightly regarded in the beginning, be it by man, woman, child, community or nation. One of the crying sins of this time seems to be the possession of a dumb devil, of getting out of the habit of worship, both in the closet and in public, too busy or too tired to depend upon Christ or witness for Him.

The Lenten services are at 5 o'clock every afternoon and marked interest is being manifested.

* * *

The morning service at the First Presbyterian church was a congregational meeting which resulted in the election of the following additional officials of the church: Dr. A. R. Wilson and Lee G. Wharton, ruling elders; and J. W. Fry and R. G. Vaughn, deacons.

At night Dr. Smith preached the 5th of a series of sermons on Christ's Creed. He discussed in a general way what Jesus believed. A musical specialty which has been much complimented was a male quartette by Messrs. Taylor, Blount, Cunningham and Parker.

In West Washington Street Baptist church yesterday morning, the pastor preached a special sermon anent the week of self-denial inaugurated in his church throughout the south. He emphasized the necessity to avoid letting the idea of penance get into our denial. The feature in the music at the morning service was a duet by Mrs. P. G. Welsh and Miss Nannie Weaver, which was beautifully rendered.

Dr. Rowe preached yesterday morning from the passage of scripture found in 2 Corinthians 5:16: "Wherefore henceforth know we no man after the flesh; yea, though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now henceforth we know him no more." It was a strong sermon, full of comfort to christians and a warning to sinners "The Christian," he said, "should think of Christ upon the throne; the Christ on the cross is a sinner's Christ." He spoke of what had been invested in man, "Jesus Christ invested his life in every man; God invested the infinity of his love in every man." One thought which he left with his hearers, was concerning our relationship with Christ. He said: "Jesus Christ is to every one of us just what we conceive him to be." The congregation was quite large, there being several students from the Normal present. Miss Lucy Glenn sang an effective solo, "Through Peace to Light." Miss Glenn has a sweet voice and a distinct enunciation.

LITTLE FROM THE WAR FIELD

NOW IMPOSSIBLE TO HOLD A PEACE MEETING IN ENGLAND

Other News the Telegraph Brings Includes the High Jump of a Calf Into a Net of Telegraph Wires.

London, March 19—Scenes of violence continue to mark meetings held to advocate peace. It is now almost impossible for peace men to hold a meeting in any town in England, and many projected meetings have been abandoned on the advice of the police. Edinburg students would have killed the speaker at the city hall meeting the police not rescued him just in time.

Mafeking still holds out but it is in a desperate plight.

Keen observers believe that Roberts meditates an advance in force on Pretoria via Rurtenburg.

Western Union linemen sent out from Franklin, Pa., yesterday report that they found numbers eight and nineteen and twenty-one tangled up with half of a calf in the mesh, the other half on the ground. How the calf got among the wires is a mystery, unless it was thrown there by a locomotive.

NATIONAL BOARD OF HEALTH.

Washington, March 19—Representative Norton, of South Carolina, in the house the other day presented an important petition. It comes from the board of health, of Charleston, South Carolina, and it petitions the congress of the United States to pass a bill for the creation of general boards of health, under the jurisdiction and control of the Federal government. This legislation has once or twice been recommended by President McKinley in his annual message to congress, and has had the support of leading southern men, including eminent physicians in Florida, Georgia, Alabama, and other southern states. Many of those who have studied the question, especially physicians who believe that the establishment of the board of health under the national government would tend to check yellow fever epidemics in the south, and kindred epidemics throughout the country, are supporting the legislation. It is fair to state, however, that the formation of such a national board of health is also opposed by many southern physicians who believe that the states can control such matters better than could the national government, and that if such a board were formed, that it would result in confusion and rivalry between the national boards of health, and the state boards.

This petition of the South Carolina representatives have been referred to the committee on interstate and foreign commerce, before which there is already pending a bill for the creation of a health department, as proposed. There is also now pending in the United States senate a bill which seeks the same object. It is not thought however, a bill can pass during the present session of congress.

Senator Daniel, of Virginia, left for Savannah today. He will attend that city reception and banquet to be given in honor of Admiral Dewey and wife, and he will be one of the principal speakers at the banquet. A number of the Georgia delegation and other southern senators and congressmen also formed the party which left Washington.

Another bill which is receiving much support, and which is likely to go through congress this session, is one for the erection of a sanitarium at Castle Pinkney, South Carolina, for which Representative Elliott, of the Charleston district, and other southern men are working hard.

Assistant Secretary of State Hon. David J. Hill left Washington last night for an extended visit to the Pacific coast. He will be gone a month or more.

Thomas Bernard, of Greensboro, is in Washington on business, and will remain here for only a few days. He has recently visited New York and other eastern cities and is enroute home.

Miss Nettie Rernheimer has gone on an extended trip south. She will go as far south as Florida, and will stop over at a few points in North Carolina enroute. She will be away from home for several months.

Dr. Carey, a prominent Maine gentleman, is in Washington, enroute home from Raleigh, where he spent about two months during the present season.

A MISTAKEN ARGUMENT.

More or less discussion was carried on last week on a proposition sprung by some one that the supreme court of North Carolina would be called upon to decide upon the constitutional amendment and that the present political complexion of the court would cause it to take a partisan view of the question and declare the amendment unconstitutional, and that the United States supreme court, following its precedent of up holding the state courts in cases relating to state matters, would also declare this amendment unconstitutional. This was alarming to some and caused the suggestion, made by the same writer, to pass another amendment providing for the election of additional judges, to be taken seriously. But a writer in yesterday's Charlotte Observer squelches effectually both this argument and the fear caused by it.

He shows that in passing upon this amendment the North Carolina court would not, manifestly, be deciding whether or not it was contrary to the constitution of North Carolina, because it is an amendment to and a changing of that instrument, hence the constitutionality or the non constitutionality of the amendment must be solely as regards the organic law of the United States. And the writer shows that in dealing with a question concerning the application of the constitution of the United States, even though it effects but one state and has been passed upon by the supreme court of that state, the court of the United States decides, without reference to the decision of the state court, the precedent of following the interpretation of a state court holding good only when questions are to be decided under the constitution of that state. This writer says:

Nobody attacks the amendment upon the ground that it violates a provision of our state constitution, for it is itself a change of the state constitution, but solely upon the ground that it violates certain provisions of the Federal constitution and hence the supreme court of the United States in considering a case involving the constitutionality of the proposed amendment would be entirely untrammeled by any decision our state supreme court might render.

And thus are any fears that nervous people may have had effectually set aside. The amendment is today next to as good as in force. There is nothing that will delay it, or something like it in North Carolina; the decree has gone forth that North Carolina will no longer live in the darkness of the great shadow that hangs over her. The very spirit of the times speaks against it, nearly as strongly in one section of the country as another.

WHAT THE NEGRO HAS GOTTEN

We notice in the papers that in an address to the graduating class of Shaw University, colored, at Raleigh, President Meserve of that institution, said:

If you have any regard for your peace of mind, to say nothing of your life, avoid politics as you would poison. I advise this course, because I can see little that has come from politics except the 'jim crow car,' and disfranchisement.

Politics has certainly brought the jim crow car to the negro and is bringing him disfranchisement as fast as the chariot of the sun can whirl off the days between now and next August. It is a pitiable fact that by turning his attention to politics instead of how to make a character and a living, the negro has made a practical wreck of himself, in every way. And now to fill his cup of sorrow and worthlessness, he is traveling fast upon the highway that will make him worthless as a servant and laborer, the only sphere in the world he could hope to fill.

Will some of our scholarly brethren of the press explain this use of the possessive case:

"Mr. H. H. Kohlsaat is a close personal friend of the president's and did effective work in securing his nomination and election."

That is from the Norfolk Landmark and we have seen numbers of papers using a similar expression. We think we have seen so accurate a writer as the editor of the Bibical Recorder use such an one. We would like to know why the "apostrophe and s" is put onto the president.

It might be in order for President McKinley to explain the difference between making Porto Ricans pay a tariff and applying the proceeds to their relief, and increasing a man's wealth by taking his money out of one of his trousers pockets and putting it into the other one.

CUNINGHAM WITH DRAWS.

Says That the Success of White Supremacy is Paramount This Year.

News and Observer, 18.

Cuningham, N. C., March 16, 1900.

To the Editor: I believe the success of the democratic party this year is paramount to the ambition of any man, and that each member of the party ought to yield his own wishes in the interest of unanimous action.

I think it is also important that the candidate for Governor who is rightly regarded as the leader of the party should be selected as far as possible without contest and with practically unanimity.

Holding these views and desiring always to do what is best for the party and the state, and believing what is the welfare of one is for the welfare of the other, I have decided to withdraw from the race of Governor.

I congratulate myself that in the contest which I have made, I have done nothing to create any enmities, and that the friends of other candidates have been considerate of me and of my friends.

I have endeavored to conduct my campaign upon a high plane of political ethics, indulging in no unkind criticism or harsh statements concerning any one.

Every partiotic citizen must admit that the success of this party in the coming campaign is more important than the triumph of any individual, and that party success at this time should be placed high above every other consideration.

The constitutional amendment is at issue and it must be decided in favor of white supremacy.

My friends throughout the state have been loyal to me and they have labored in my behalf with effective earnestness and zeal. To them I am truly grateful, and it is to them that I turn with sincere pride and shall ever cherish their loyal support as the brightest page in the history of my life.

They have waged a vigorous contest and the assurances of support which I have received from many sources have been warm and encouraging.

I deeply appreciate every kind word they have spoken in my behalf and I feel they will understand my action in retiring from the race at this time, since I can assure them and the good people of North Carolina that I am taking this step because I believe that it is in the interest of party harmony for me to do so, and because I think my retirement will in a measure simplify the situation and increase to some extent our chances of party success. Every one who knows me will understand that my best services from now on, as they have always been in the past, will be at the command of the Democratic party, and I have never failed to enter into the thickest of the fight whenever the principal of our party have been assailed or white supremacy threatened.

Very respectfully,
John S. Cuningham.

A NIGHT OF TERROR.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham, of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning" writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought she must soon die from Pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, saying it had more than once saved her life, and had cured her of consumption. After three small doses she slept easily all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all throat, chest and lung diseases. Only 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store.

HIS LIFE WAS SAVED.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

He Was Telling Him.

During one of the earliest visits of the royal family to Balmoral Prince Albert, dressed in a simple manner, was crossing one of the Scottish lakes in a steamer and was curious to note everything relating to the management of the vessel and, among many other things, the cooking. Approaching the galley, where a brawny highlander was attending to the culinary matters, he was attracted by the savory odors of a pot of "hodgepodge," which the highlander was preparing.

"What is that?" asked the prince, who was not known to the cook.

"Hodgepodge, sir," was the reply.

"How is it made?" was the next question.

"Why, there's mutton intil't and turnips intil't and carrots intil't and"—

"Yes, yes," said the prince; "but what is intil't?"

The man looked at him, and, seeing that the prince was serious, he replied:

"There's mutton intil't and turnips intil't and"—

"Yes, certainly, I know," urged the inquirer, "but what is intil't—intil't?"

"Man," yelled the highlander, brandishing his big ladle, "am I no tellin ye what's intil't? There's mutton intil't and"—

Here the interview was brought to a close by one of the prince's suit, who fortunately was passing, explaining to his royal highness that "intil't" simply meant "into it" and nothing more.—Exchange.

A Theatrical Puzzle.

"There is something absolutely baffling to understand," said a theatrical manager, "about the perfect regularity of the sizes of audiences for any given play. You know I manage two theaters here in New York. One of them holds about 2,000 people and the other holds about 1,000 people.

"Now, when we have a play that is what we call a great success at the small theater—such a success that we have to turn people away every night—it is almost invariable that the number turned away is not far from 30 each night—that is to say, 1,000 people come and get in and 30 come and cannot get in. And when we have a similar success at the large theater the average number of people turned away is just the same—about 30—that is, 2,000 people come and get in and 30 come and cannot get in.

"Now, to all appearances the one play has made just as big a hit as the other, so why is it that just about 1,030 people want to see the one every night and just about 2,000 people want to see the other every night? Why do the 2,030 never come to the small theater? They never do. Such a thing was never heard of. It's a little section in the law of averages that I never could understand."—New York Tribune.

The First War Correspondent.

As far as can be gathered, the first recognized war correspondent to a newspaper was a man, whose name, unhappily, has sunk into oblivion, at the siege of Antwerp in 1831. Much earlier in the century, though, there was in an informal and unrecognized manner a witness named Peter Finnerty—one can make a shrewd guess at his nationality—"who on his return from the Walcheren expedition told the British public a good deal more about that unfortunate naval and military blunder than the British government of the day cared to have published." There was, too, some really admirable pen and ink work about the Carlist war in the London papers, notably by Frederick Hardman and C. L. Gruinesen. Mr. Gruinesen fell into the hands of the Carlists and was about to be shot when he was rescued from his impending fate by the intercession of the late Lord Ranelagh, who had taken service in the cause of Don Carlos de Bourbon.—London Post.

Industry and Success.

"There's nothin like farmin on a hillside," said the man with the faded hair during a pause in the conversation, "if you pick out a good location."

"Do you mean to say," they asked him, "that you ever worked on a hillside farm or anywhere else?"

"Who said anything about workin?" he rejoined. "I said hillside farmin was all right if you picked out a good location. I had a location right down below a 40 acre farm where a feller put in one whole summer raisin melons an pumpkins. When they got ripe, they broke off f'm the vine an rolled down on to my land. It was a good deal of bother to gather 'em up, but I done it. Made a pretty good thing out of it too."

It was a narrow escape and nearly cost him his reputation as the laziest man in the crowd.—Chicago Tribune.

Insulted.

"Troubled with insomnia, are you?" said Dr. Paresis after listening to his patient's tale of woe. "Tried all the usual remedies, have you? Well, now suppose you try to read 'The Impressions of a Bohemian.' It's a new book, just out. I tried to read it last night and was asleep in three minutes."

"Sir," replied the patient, with freezing dignity, "I am the author of that book, and I have the honor to wish you a very good evening!"

Many Fraudulent Claims.

All the big life insurance companies spend a lot of money each year to prevent fraudulent claims from being paid, and the ingenuity with which some of these claims are planned calls for the very best detective service that the companies can command. They are willing to spend a good deal more than the amount of the policy to expose these frauds.—Indianapolis News.

MILLIONS GIVEN AWAY.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine, and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and all diseases of the throat, chest and lungs are surely cured by it. Call on C. E. Holton, druggist, and get a trial bottle free. Regular size 50 and $1. Every bottle guaranteed or price refunded.

A THOUSAND TONGUES.

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer, of 1125 Howard st., Philadelphi, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this Royal Cure—"it soon removed the pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praises throughout the Universe." So will every one who tries Dr. Kings' New Discovery for any trouble of the Throat, Chest or Lungs. Price 50c. and $1. A LIFE AND DEATH FIGHT

Mr. W. A. Hines, of Manchester, Iowa, writing of his almost miraculous escape from death says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which completely cured me. I would not be without it even it cost $5 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and all say it never fails to cure throat, chest and lung troubles." Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. An Editor's Life Saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

During the early part of October, 1896, I contracted a bad cold, which settled on my lungs and was neglected until I feared that consumption had appeared in an incipient state. I was constantly coughing and trying to expel something which I could not. I became alarmed and after giving the local doctor a trial bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the result was immediate improvement, and after I had used three bottles my lungs were restored to their healthy state.—B. "To-morrow, and to-morrow, and to-morrow,
Creep on in petty space from day to day
And all our yesterdays have lighted fools
The way to dusty death."

Procrastination is the thief of health as well as this thief of time. There are few things in which procrastination is so much indulged as in letter writing. We mean to write, but "to-morrow and to-morrow creep on" and we neglect it. This is bad enough when the correspondence is social or business in its character, but when it concerns the vital issue of health it is infinitely worse.

This touches you, if you are one of the women who have felt inclined to take advantage of Dr. Pierce's offer of a consultation by letter, free. You have studied the evidence which shows how other women have been cured. You cannot doubt but that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription does cure diseases peculiar to women; irregularity, ulcerations, inflammations, bearing-down pains. You cannot doubt it, because of the force of the testimony of hundreds of thousands of weak women made strong, and sick women made well, and you mean to write—to-morrow.

Write to-day. Your letter will be read in private, its contents guarded as a sacred confidence, and an answer promptly mailed you in a plain envelope without any printing upon it. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"When I wrote you about my ailments I was living in Richland, Iowa," writes Mrs. M. Vastine, of 627 South Liberty Street, Galesburg, Ill. "I took six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, four of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and four vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Before I had taken four bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' I was a new woman. I cannot make pen describe my heartfelt gratitude, but will confirm the truth of all I say to those who write inclose stamped envelope for reply."

SCROFULA AND ITS AWFUL HORRORS

—CURED BY—

Johnston's Sarsaparilla

QUART BOTTLES.

A MOST WONDERFUL CURE.

A Grand Old Lady Gives Her Experience.

Mrs. Thankful Orilla Hurd lives in the beautiful village of Brighton, Livingston Co., Mich. This venerable and highly respected lady was born in the year 1812, the year of the great war, in Hebron, Washington Co., New York. She came to Michigan in 1840, the year of "Tippecanoe and Tyler too." All her faculties are excellently preserved, and possessing a very retentive memory, her mind is full of interesting reminiscences of her early life, of the early days of the State of Michigan and the interesting and remarkable people she has met, and the stirring events of which she was a witness. But nothing in her varied and manifold recollections are more marvelous and worthy of attention than are her experiences in the use of JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA. Mrs. Hurd inherited a tendency and predisposition to scrofula, that terribly destructive blood taint which has cursed and is cursing the lives of thousands and marking thousands more as victims of the death angel. Transmitted from generation to generation, it is found in nearly every family in one form or another. It may make its appearance in dreadful running sores, in unsightly swellings in the neck or goitre, or in eruptions of varied forms. Attacking the mucous membrane, it may be known as catarrh in the head, or developing in the lungs it may be, and often is, the prime cause of consumption.

Speaking of her case, Mrs. Hurd says: "I was troubled for many years with a bad skin disease. My arms and limbs would break out in a mass of sores, discharging yellow matter. My neck began to swell and became very unsightly in appearance. My body was covered with scrofulous eruptions. My eyes were also greatly inflamed and weakened, and they pained me very much. My blood was in a very bad condition and my head ached severely at frequent intervals, and I had no appetite. I had sores also in my ears. I was in a miserable condition, I had tried every remedy that had been recommended, and doctor after doctor had failed. One of the best physicians in the state told me I must die of scrofulous consumption, as internal abcesses were beginning to form. I at length was told of Dr. Johnston, of Detroit, and his famous Sarsaparilla. I tried a bottle, more as an experiment than anything else, as I had no faith in it, and greatly to my agreeable surprise, I began to grow better. You can be sure I kept on taking it. I took a great many bottles. But I steadily improved until I became entirely well. All the sores healed up, all the bad symptoms disappeared. I gained perfect health, and I have never been troubled with scrofula since. Of course an old lady of 83 years is not a young woman, but I have had remarkably good health since then, and I firmly believe that JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA is the greatest blood purifier and the best medicine in the wide world, both for scrofula and as a spring medicine." This remarkably interesting old lady did not lok to be more than sixty, and she repeated several times, "I believe my life was saved by JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA."

Kaffirs Are Born Liars.

The Kaffir makes an interesting study. You cannot understand him all at once. It requires time, and a good deal of it. A new arrival thinks the Kaffir is a born prevaricator of the truth and has his reasons for so thinking.

Suppose you catch a "boy" committing a misdemeanor. Ask him what he has been doing, and he will look up in your face, a picture of innocence, and reply, "Ikona, baas"—a plump denial. Tell him you saw him do it, threaten him with punishment; he will still persist in maintaining his innocence. He will still plead ignorance of the misdeed and mutter in astonishment or fear, "Ikona, baas." In fact, he knows nothing whatever about it. If the offense be one that cannot be overlooked, you proceed to administer reproof—with the foot, if you are not particular and wish to be impressive. What does he do? If he is a raw "boy" and not used to it, he runs off with a terrified look on his face; if he is used to it, he retires precipitately with a satisfied smile, not necessarily because he has got the thrashing, but because he no longer has it to look forward to.

The only explanation for the systematic lying or the native in face of the most convincing proof is that the native mind is totally unable to form a conception of what we understand by truthfulness.—London Mail.

An "American" Duel.

During my residence in Heidelberg a lamentable and terrible affair took place that threw a profound gloom over the university and the entire town. Two German students, having quarreled, decided the earth was not large enough for both of them to live in and resorted to the diabolical practice called the "American duel."

In a darkened room the two young men drew lots, having sworn that he who drew the black ball would commit suicide. The unhappy loser went to his room and discharged a bullet into his breast, but missed his heart and lingered for several days on his deathbed. His parents were summoned by telegraph and besought him on their knees to disclose the name of his antagonist, but he steadfastly refused and died with the secret in his breast.

The students not only excused his conduct, but praised his courage, and when his remains were taken to the railway station to be transported to a distant city they accompanied the funeral cortege with torches and music. The students claimed he was not a suicide, for he was killed in an honorable duel, and they maintained that his opponent was not accessory to his death because he shot himself. I had many arguments with them and never could convince them of their extraordinary tergiversation.—Science.

Fooled the Crowd.

Some people will go to great trouble and expense to perpetrate a joke. The other day two well known society men hired a closed carriage and decorated it with bows of white ribbon and flowers and other paraphernalia belonging to a well appointed wedding.

On each side was hung a placard announcing that the occupants were just married.

It attracted great attention, and when it pulled up in front of the Galt House a few days ago a large crowd had congregated to see the happy bride and groom alight. The driver slowly got down from his seat beside the door.

He opened it deliberately, and when he swung the door open the curious crowd surged forward. There was no bride and no groom inside, but instead a big placard bearing in great black letters the single word, "Rubber."

For a little while the driver had the joke to himself, but soon the crowd realized the neat swindle, and all enjoyed the episode hugely.—Louisville Dispatch.

Was She Right?

A certain woman, says the Wichita Eagle, desired the arrest of the saloon keeper who had been selling whisky to her drunken husband. Having conducted the officer to the saloon, she was told by him to pick out the proprietor. Seven men, all looking alike and dressed alike, were standing motionless around a whisky barrel, and she could not tell which was the one, but she stepped to the barrel and turned the spigot, and the liquor began to pour out on the floor. One of the men sprang out of the circle and turned the spigot off. "Arrest that man!" she said.

But was she right? Was it more likely to be the proprietor who would thus plead guilty and go to jail or some innocent man with an unquenchable thirst who was horrified at seeing the awful waste?

Not a Hard Question.

They had a dispute, and they had agreed to leave it to the military expert.

"What bullet," they asked, "do you consider the deadliest?"

For several minutes he remained in a brown study. Then he looked up with the air of one who has settled the matter finally and definitely.

"The one that hits," he said.—Chicago Post.

NAPOLEON AT ST. HELENA.

One of the "Talks With Napoleon" quoted from Dr. O'Meara's diary in The Century records Napoleon's indignation at being, as he considered, it, spied upon while living at St. Helena.

"I understand," said he, "that an officer is placed here to report about me and to see me two or three times in the 24 hours and that they are talking of making him go into my chamber to see me if I did not come out. Any person," said he then, with considerable agitation, "who endeavors to force his way into my apartment will be a corpse the moment he enters it. If he ever eats bread or meat afterward, I am not Napoleon. This I am determined on.

"I know that I will be killed afterward, as what can one do against a camp? But what of that? I have faced death many a time. Besides I am convinced that this governor, this chief of jailers, has been sent out on purpose to poison me or put me to death some way or another or under some pretext by Lord Castlereagh.

"I have seen," continued he, "Russians, Prussians, Arabs, Cossacks, Tartars, Spaniards, Persians, Turks" (here he enumerated a great many more), "and never in my life before did I behold so ill favored and forbidding a countenance or so down and horrid a look. He carries crime imprinted on his countenance. (Il porte le crime empreint sur son visage.) He is a man, to judge from his physiognomy, that one would select for the committal of any atrocious crime and as such has been selected out by your ministers, I suppose, on purpose to make away with me."

WON HIM A BRIDE.

The Ruse by Which One Young Man's Credit Was Established.

"He was a good fellow," said he, "but young and without much capital. The girl was a beauty and loved the boy, but the father (the same old irate father) objected and demanded that the boy show that he was capable of supporting a wife. This was in St. Louis about ten years ago, and the boy came to me with his troubles.

"'Never mind,' said I. 'I'll fix it up all right. By the way, how much will you take for your right leg?'

"He looked at me as though I were crazy, but made no answer.

"'I'll give you $10,000 for it,' I said. 'Will you take it?'

"'No, I won't,' he said. 'What do you take me for?'

"Well, I knew the girl's father; he was a merchant, and I called to see him. We finally drifted around to talking about this young fellow, and the old man flared a little, stating that he wanted some one who could support a wife to have his daughter.

"'Support a wife!' said I, in surprise. 'Why, he certainly can do all that. Only a few days ago he refused $10,000 for a piece of property.'

"'His own property?' asked the father. 'Certainly,' said I.

"'Who offered him the money?' asked he.

"'I did, and he refused it,' I answered. 'He claimed it was worth more.'

"Well, this made a hit, and no more questions were asked. The boy is doing well now and has a good family. I haven't spoken to the father since."—Washington Times.

The Height of Storms.

Professor F. H. Bigelow furnishes The American Journal of Science with some of the results of the international cloud work for the United States. The penetration of ordinary cyclones into the higher regions of the atmosphere is slight. They are only two or three miles deep. Hurricanes are five or six miles deep. The anticyclonic and cyclonic areas are hardly to be considered as centers of motion except in the very lowest strata, since currents of air blow directly over them from west to east, even in the cumulus region of the Rocky mountain districts. The ordinary circulation theory does not hold good. In each stratum from the surface to the cirrus level about as much air moves north as south, for there are enormous counter currents passing by each other at the same level and not over one another at different elevations. This puts a new aspect upon the entire problem of the general circulation.—Nature.

Doubled Him Up.

A prominent western clergyman, W. W. White by name, was a member of a learned society in which there were several members who were fond of quibbling. During a speech he had been annoyed by their interruptions almost beyond the point of endurance. At last he said, "I trust I will not be troubled again until my speech is finished."

Before he could begin another sentence one of his chief tormenters arose and said, slowly and solemnly:

"Oh, doctor double-u, double-u, double-u,
We love to trouble you, trouble you, trouble you."

The doctor sat down.—Kansas City Independent.

FREE OF CHARGE.

Any adult suffering from a cold settled on the breast, bronchitis, throat or lung troubles of any nature, who will call at Grissom & Fordham's, will be presented with a sample bottle of Boschee's German Syrup, free of charge. Only one bottle given to one person, and none to children without order from parents. No throat or lung remedy ever had such a sale as Boschee's German Syrup in all parts of the civilized world. Twenty years ago millions of bottles were given away, and your druggist will tell you its success was marvelous. It is really the only throat and lung trouble generally endorsed by physicians. Only 75-cent bottle will cure or prove its value. Sold by dealers in all civilized countries.

WINE OF CARDUI

How a Woman Suffers.

HOWELL, IND., Nov. 26.

I will always praise Wine of Cardui. It has done me more good than all the medicines I have ever taken in my life. Please send a book about female diseases to the ladies whose names I enclose.

Mrs. MINNIE STODGHILL.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

It isn't necessary for a woman to give particulars. When she says she has "female troubles", other women know what that means. It means days and nights of endless suffering. It means headaches which no tongue can describe. It means that terrible bearing and dragging down in the lower abdomen. It means agonizing backache, and shoulder ache, and arm ache, and aches in the lower limbs. It means nerves on edge—the blues—despondency and loss of hope. It means debilitating drains that the doctors call leucorrhœa. It means martyrdom—sometimes even death seems preferable. And still Wine of Cardui will utterly put those diseases and pains to rout. It has cured thousands of cases when nothing else on earth would. To the budding woman, to the bride, to the wife, to the expectant mother, to those going through the Change of Life, this Vegetable Wine is a blessing.

PREVENTED A TRAGEDY.

Timely information given Mrs. George Long, of New Straitsville, O., prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had kept her awake every night. She tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle cured her, and she writes this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store.

It seems strange that a woman will shriek at the sight of a mouse and yet face a dentist with admirable fortitude.

Rev. E. W. Sitzer, W. Caton, N.Y., writes: "I had dyspepsia over twenty years, and tried doctors and medicines without benefit. I was persuaded to use Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and it helped me from the start. I believe it to be a panacea for all forms of indigestion." It digests what you eat. Howard Gardner.

Sacrificed to Blood Poison.

Those who have never had Blood Poison can not know what a desperate condition it can produce. This terrible disease which the doctors are totally unable to cure is communicated from one generation to another, inflicting its taint upon countless innocent ones.

Some years ago I was inoculated with poison by a nurse who infected my babe with blood taint. The little one was unequal to the struggle, and its life was yielded up to the fearful poison. For six long years I suffered untold misery. I was covered with sores and ulcers from head to foot, and no language can express my feelings of woe during those long years. I had the best medical treatment. Several physicians assisted tively treated me, but all to no purpose. The mercury and potash seemed to add fuel to the awful flame which was consuming me. I was advised by friends who had seen wonderful cures made by it, to try Swift's Specific. We got two bottles, and I felt hope again revive in my breast—hope for health and happiness again. I improved from the start, and a complete and perfect cure was the result. S. S. S. is the only blood remedy which reaches desperate cases.

Mrs. T. W. LEE, Montgomery, Ala.

Of the many blood remedies, S. S. S. is the only one which can reach deep-seated, violent cases. It never fails to cure perfectly and permanently the most desperate cases which are beyond the reach of other remedies.

Family Washing

Massaging a shirt front with a red hot iron, or leaning over a tub and making an India rubber tire out of your spine, isn't a very pleasant experience in either hot or cold weather. The twentieth cennuey woman is fortunate in having our laundry to relieve her of this drudgery. We will soon be prepared to take family washing on a large scale. We are now prepared to take a limited amount of this work. If you are interested in having us do your entire family washing at a reasonable price, call on us. Our methods are right up to date, and our laundry work is recommended by all who have tried it. Look out for the white wagons.

Another Business Deal.

The china and crockery store of J. R. McDuffie has been sold and N. J. McDuffie has become the purchaser. Mr. McDuffie says he will close out the stock, and replace the frame building by a brick structure. One by one the old frame houses are going and modern ones are taking their places.

Receivership Made Permanent.

Mr. A. B. Kimball went to Hillsboro this morning and appeared before Judge Moore in the matter of receivership of the Fishblate-Katz Co. The appointment of Mr. J. W. Lindau as receiver was confirmed, and the stock of goods ordered to be sold in lots or as a whole, and all creditors of the concern were enjoined from bringing suit.

Lon Smith Captured?

It is reported here that Lon Smith has been captured in one of the western counties. It will be remembered that he was sent to the penitentiary about two years ago for breaking in a store at Morehead, and that he escaped after serving about one year of his sentence. It it is stated that he will be carried back to the pen tommorow.

A Carriage Smashed.

Saturday night a two horse carriage was turned over in front of Glascock's foundry and almost demolished. Street work had been in progress there and it is claimed there was no light to warn the drivers of the danger. The occupants of the carriage were a colored man, the driver, and Messrs. R. P. Gorrel, Rank Thomas (owner of the team) and a Mr. Williams, of Proximity. None of them were seriously hurt, the greatest damage being done to the vehicle.

A Narrow Escape.

At a residence on West Market street last night a serious fire was narrowly averted. The servant in placing the night lamp for the night, carelessly placed it under a shelf upon which clothing had been left. In about two hours time the lamp had burnt its way through the shelf into the clothing on top. The occupants of the room were awakened by a dense smoke. If the fire had had ten minutes more headway it would have been beyond control. If the door of the closet in which the lamp was had been closed, the house would have burnt down without question.

Moral—Never leave a lamp burning in a closet, and in placing a lamp always "stand it from under."

Dr. Smith May be Called.

It is reported that Dr. Egbert W. Smith has been approached by the officers of the 2nd Presbyterian church of Richmond, Va., with a view to ascertaining if he would accept a call. This is probably the leading pulpit of this denomination of the South. Dr. Moses D. Hoge, the most eloquent divine of the Southern Presbyterian church, was its pastor from its organization to the time of his death, extending over a period of fifty years. Since the death of Dr. Hoge the pulpit has not been filled by a regular pastor. It it is to be hoped that Dr. Smith will decline the call.

It was announced in Saturday's Telegram that Admiral George Dewey would pass here this afternoon on his way to Savannah. Our information was to the effect that he would pass at 7.10 which is the time the fast mail is due here in the evening. It meant, however, 7.10 in the morning, his train to follow closely behind the vestibule. We regret the error, as a number of people would have been glad to see the distinguished victor.

The Dewey train passed here about 8.20 this morning and only stopped a few minutes. There were perhaps, not over thirty or forty people at the depot, mostly railroad people. As the train bearing the Dewey party rolled into the station the admiral was just finishing his morning meal. The people on the platform saw him and surged to the side of the coach. He looked out and motioned with his hand to the rear of the train. Going back he took a seat inside and complacently gazed out at the crowd and sat still, picking his teeth. He was not called on for a speech and not a word uttered he. Superintendent O'Brien went in, shook hands with the admiral and chatted while the engine took water.

There were only two coaches in the train, the admiral riding in official car No. 102, of the Southern railway. The party is due in Savannah at 6.10 this evening.

Short Local Items.

Wyatt B. Allen, proprietor of the Allen House, is able to be out again from a protracted case of grip.

There will be work in the third degree at Greensboro Lodge No. 80. K. of P. tonight. A full attendance is desired.

The game of baseball between Guilford College and Whitsett, played Saturday, was won by the former. A synopsis of the game is crowded out of this issue.

Mrs. D. H. Borger, nee Miss Daisy Caldwell, passed through at noon from Atlanta to Winston on a visit to her mother, and brother, Rev. R. E. Caldwell.

The regular Epworth League service will be held at 7:45 this evening in West Market Street Church, led by the pastor. A cordial invitation to all is extended.

Practice of the Easter Cantata will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Norman Wills, on West Gaston street tomorrow evening, beginning at eight o'clock. A full attendance is especially requested.

Mr. Charles L. VanNoppen has been challenged to a joint debate on the South African question with Prof. Whitehouse, of Trinity College, at Durham, tomorrow night. Professor Whitehouse is an Englishman, and Mr. Van Noppen is a Dutchman, and this will be literally Boer against British. The debate will occur in Stokes Hall, for the benefit of Watt's hospital.

Speakers For C. & M. Convention.

The Christian and Missionary Alliance convention in this city will be held in the Friends church, opening on Wednesday, the 21st, at 7.30 p. m., and closing on Friday night, the 23rd. On Thursday and Friday the meetings will be held at 10 a. m., 3 and 7.30 p. m. The following speakers are announced: Rev. A. B. Simpson, president and founder of the society; Rev. A. E. Funk, secretary of the board, who spent last summer visiting the missions in Palestine, India, China and Japan; Rev. D. W. LeLacheur, superintendent of the work in China who delivered an address in the First Presbyterian church of this city last year; Mrs. Reeves, missionary to South China, and Rev. W. W. Simpson, to Tibet, both home on furlough; and Rev. S. C. Todd, district superintendent in the south. The addresses will be chiefly on deeper Christian life and foreign missions.

Quo Vadis Tonight

Hundreds of local readers of Sienkiewicz's novel, "Quo Vadis," will find interest in Chas. W. Chase's dramatization of it, which will be given at the academy of music tonight. Report says that it has been playing to crowded houses everywhere, as it will doubtless do here. The cast is said to be very strong, and the entire production a lavish and in many respects a beautiful example of scenic stagecraft. The religious element of the play is very strong, and the clergy of all denominations are said to have placed their marks of approval upon this play, pronouncing it a great instrument of good, which should be listened to by all classes.

MAKING A TEST CASE.

Has a Town the Right to Enforce Compulsory Vaccination?

Judge Fred Moore spent last night in the city and left this morning for Hillsboro to preside over Orange superior court. The judge has been at his home in Asheville ever since holding court here a few weeks ago and during the time had an unpleasant experience with the grip.

The Telegram man saw Judge Moore this morning and from him learned that a test case is being made in Asheville of the compulsory vaccination business. The main question involved is: Has a municipal corporation the legal right to enforce compulsory vaccination. The matter was argued before Judge Moore, consuming the whole day Saturday and came up in the following manner: The city authorities passed a compulsory vaccination ordinance, proving that all citizens (with certain exceptions) shall be vaccinated, providing a fine of $50 as a penalty for refusal. A gentleman was arrested under that ordinance and fined. The authorities passed another ordinance using the word "inhabitants" instead of "citizens," and providing a penalty for each day's refusal to comply therewith. Under this ordinance the same man was again arrested. He applied to Judge Moore for habeas corpus proceedings, which the judge granted and the matter came up for argument.

The contest was lively, the plaintiff taking the ground that he had already been tried and fined for the offense and could not be tried again on the same charge. The defendant city met this by saying that it was the enforcement of a health regulation and on the ground that nuisances such as endanger the health of a community are liable to a fine each day they are allowed to continue, the same rule would apply in this case, where, it is claimed, that each day a man walks about the city unvaccinated he is a menace to health.

The plaintiff further contended that it is unlawful to legislate against part of the people and exempt others. The main question, as stated, involves the power of towns to enforce compulsory vaccination which, alone, would be hard enough to determine, but complicated as the matter is with such points and contentions as those given above, Judge Moore has a knotty problem to solve. He has reserved his decision for a few days.

CLASS DAY AT OAK RIDGE.

Fine Progress of the School—General Gordon for Commencement.

Delayed from Saturday.

Oak Ridge, March 17—This has been a highly prosperous session at Oak Ridge Institute. There have been over two hundred boarding students here, and in the highly moral and gentlemanly character of the student body and in the character of work done in all departments this is the equal of any session in the school's history, to say the least.

The senior class numbers about twenty, and their scholarship is higher and broader than that of any other class which has graduated here. Class day will be celebrated duly in April and promises to be an agreeable break in the ordinary monotony of school life.

All departments of the school seem to feel the good effects of the general crusade against smoking which has been inaugurated here. Cigarettes are not sold here at all and the spirit of the school is so severely against them that they are rarely seen on our streets.

The athletic spirit is good here this year. While we have no professionals, and the team will be composed of untried men, we hope to make a good showing against all schools we meet this year. Owing to the backward season, there has been very little practice, but what has been is satisfactory. Both grounds are alive with men every nice afternoon, and thronged with spectators and rooters.

Commencement promises to be largely attended. Many alumni are to be here from all parts of this and other states. General Gordon will meet here hundreds of old Confederate soldiers from this and other counties, and the exercises will be unusually interesting and inspiring.

Greensboro is quite well represented here this year. Charlie Vanstory, Harper Lindsay, Logan Porter, Thornwell Witherspoon, James Kirkpatrick and the Ross brothers are among the Greensboro contingent.

INDIA'S PITIFUL CRY FOR BREAD.

Statistics That Stagger—Fifty Million Starving People.

Two cents a day will support a life. One dollar will keep a man, woman or child two months from starvation. Ten dollars will save five lives for four months. "He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth to the Lord; and that which he gives will he pay them again."

Let us each and every one make an investment and lend unto the Lord, and in due time he will repay all that we have lent him.

How many lives will you undertake to save? Send quickly lest they perish before relief can reach them. Send your contributions to Mrs. F. E. Ross treasurer, (Southern Loan & Trust Co's. building).

CROWDS and LOW PRICES.

Two things invariably attract attention—crowds and low prices. The first proposition always results from the last—and this accounts for the great stream of humanity that seems to fill almost every inch of our store space daily. Men read the news; women read the advertisements, especially the "bargain numbers." If it is bargains you are looking for, look no further. Here they are:

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity.

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

And ours is the place to get the stuff.
